President's Message

I've been really busy at our farm recently. After all of the spring rain that we have received, it seems the grass, weeds, and briars have grown super naturally, which calls for extra mowing, cleaning out fencerows, and repairing fence. While completing some of these chores, I have noticed a surprising number of snakes, both poison and non-poisonous, of which I have managed to reduce the number of Copperheads by three.

Metal detecting can be dangerous at this time of the year. Not all snakes are found in tall grass. Two of the Copperheads that I eradicated were sunning themselves in clear areas. Snakes are also found in habitable areas of cities and towns. Favorite sites for these creatures are flowerbeds so please be careful!

If YOU are bitten by one of these reptiles, try to remain calm and seek the nearest emergency room. If possible, bring the DEAD snake with you so the doctor can identify exactly what bit you. (Even a non-poisonous snake can bite and it does hurt)

Happy Hunting, Larry
